

The AIC* administration journey

Below is an overview of what practices, patients, and alternate injection centers (AIC) may experience when a drug is administered at an AIC instead of a practice. The journey presented does not encompass every possible scenario and is only meant to serve as a guide on what to expect along the way.

If you have questions, the drug manufacturer can usually provide more information about access to their therapy, including through AIC.

*Encompasses Infusion Suites, Ambulatory Infusion Centers, and Infusion Management Companies.